Lamanai and The New River Safari

This is one of Belize's most interesting tours. After a scenic one hour drive up the Northern Highway, board a riverboat at Tower Hill and head up the New River. While traversing the many little creeks and lagoons, it is easy to encounter hawks, kites and falcons. You may also see dainty Jacanas lightly walking on the lily pads while the crocodile bask in the morning sunlight. At the entrance to the New River Lagoon, the ruins of Lamanai, Maya for "Submerged Crocodile", rise into view. While touring this ancient Maya site, huge masks depicting rulers from this bygone age and gods seem to materialize out of the rainforest amid the chatter of bird life and the haunting call of the Howler Monkeys. Your guide will point out the Copal and Ramon trees, instrumental in the lives of the ancient Maya.

Departures: Daily
